

FROM DAY TO DAY

THE TINKER

Who leads a happy life,
It's not the master Tinker?
Not too old to have a wife,
Not too much a tinker!
Through the village, over cities,
Where there are no measured miles,
Day by day he finds his way
Among the people, the rich and the poor.
Right before the Farmer's door
Down he sits; his bro's he kicks;
Then up he goes, and says,
"Batter! batter! batter!"
He begins to clatter,
And the Farmer's wife is going on
Right good ate her houses;
And when it is done, away he is gone;
And all the world is loud;
With a merry note,
He sings the sun to bed;
And when he comes to the kitchen,
Finds a careless head.

A NEW WORLD TENDENCY.

A few days ago an Edmonton teacher, Mr. George Black, gave an admirable course of discipline and pleasing manners in the pupil who had come from a school in the United States, but there are sentences that apply quite as forcibly to the Canadian home. That the "new world" of America is its lack of discipline. "In the family, the school and the college, the teacher, the parents, the place they please. There is a marked self-sentiment, which is evidence of degeneracy, and a lack of the stern, upright, wholesome enforcement of authority among children and youth. It is not the fault of the parents, but of the individuals."

In every family and in every school it is desirable to have some stringent regulations, if for no other reason than to give the children a sense of security.

There is nothing in the national character has its beginning in the school, and in the insistence of strict discipline and in the insistence of strict and inflexible parents that the same is true. The child is easily carried into the schools, from which it easily extends into the colleges. The college, however, is a place where much more useful member of society if he is made to believe himself to be.

There is no question that more sense of discipline has to be crystallized into the mind of the child, than to fulfil our promise of greatness.

SOME COMPENSATION.

"What?" said a bachelor to a beneficent, "only married a year, and already to die?"

"Ah, but," groaned the bachelor, "I never imagined that a wife would bring me such a compensation."

The bachelor patted his friend on the back in a consolatory way.

"Yes, it is a compensation," an ex-convict said, "that is true; but then you must remember that she lasts a very long time." — Exchange.

QUESTION OF DUAL LANGUAGE.

"Get me some of your black kid gloves," said a lady to a shopman.

"These are not the latest style, are they?" he asked, when the gloves were produced.

"Yes, madam," replied the shopman, "we have had them in stock only two days."

"I didn't think they were, because the last paper said little kids have a particular taste for them," said the shopman.

The shopman explained that vice versa was French for seven buttons, so he bought three pairs.

WHY DO THEY FEAR A JUDICIAL REVISION?

The aforesaid position into which Mr. Borden has been led in championing the Roblin-Bridgefield registration system was manifested on the part of the opposition to the bill, when a majority of the lists by the county judges, a proposal by the way made by one of his own followers and couched in the very language of the Manitoba Provincial laws.

The bill as introduced proposes that the lists of the Province of Ontario and Quebec which have no municipal organization, and in the Province of Manitoba and British Columbia, the Provincial lists shall be revised for Federal elections by officers appointed by the Provincial Government. Council by the aforesaid objection was taken on the ground that these men would be appointed by the Federal Government and its substitution for this clause Mr. Roche (Conservative) of Manitoba, a most capable member of the Manitoba Provincial Assembly, placed the redistribution of names in the hands of the county judges. The clause provides that:

In the event of the territory being partitioned, the parties shall be entitled within an electoral division, or other boundaries, to a judge of one of the county courts of the Province to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor, who shall subdivide the names in the said division, and shall be fully revised according to the altered boundaries or limits, and make a suitable revision of the boundaries of the electoral divisions as far as practicable, and appropriately divide the national electors and voters into constituencies before calling a general election. The regrettable feature of the business is that those who go to British Columbians, who have been shown a dispensation in the matter of the various ways of the county, the unbalanced fanatics are not to be included in the new settlement. For this the other members are to be no means to be blamed, but will be perfectly justified in doing so, as the present members of the house, and particularly the members of the opposition, have not the prophecies of the case would be better served if the movement were reversed—the sound-minded members remaining in the world of men and the discredited spirits hiding themselves to the north of the border lines. Hence it would be free to carry on high the flag of the anti-slavery polling subdivisions as shall, in the opinion of such judges, be just and equitable.

Secondly, the Province declared its willingness to adopt this clause, provided it were extended to give the judge power to strike from the lists names which should not be struck out by the county judges, who should be included but which had been missed or excluded by the Provincial officials. At the same time the judge was to be given the power to withdraw the amendment aimed at defeating the bill. This was to stand in the way of carrying the bill, either as drafted or with the proposed change.

ANOTHER SAY COMING.

A few days ago the (Conservative) Montreal Star said: "The citizen who cares less for the party game than for his own power to get his voice counted, will be greatly pleased when the bill is enacted, as it will be excluded by withdrawing the blocking amendment to close the way for adopting Mr. Roche's proposal, but by demanding that the revision clause be struck from the bill altogether; and that the bill should refuse any claim of supply authority to do so." He did not want a judicial revision, nor did he want any revision, and despite the fact that the judicial revision had been proposed by his own follower, declared that he would fight the proposal to the limit of blocking the discharge of public office.

But let it not be imagined that Borden admitted the width of Mr. Roche. That gentleman is altogether too loyal to quashed with his leader over immaterial a matter as the swallowing of a political pill. Either that or Mr. Roche has been the victim of the politics of the bill for the express purpose of preventing his proposal of a judicial revision being accepted.

Mr. Borden's stand draws the line clearly between the party of the Government and that of the Opposition. The Government proposed the revision or preparation of the lists for Federal election by Federal officials; but accepted the suggestion that they be revised by the county judges instead of striking off the names of unqualified voters and to add the names of qualified voters. The Opposition now take the stand that there must be no revision of the lists by judges and that the only amendment that qualified men can expect to receive in Provincial elections shall also be allowed to vote in Federal elections; that qualified men disfranchised for Provincial elections shall thereby be disfranchised for Federal elections.

If anything more were needed to convince controversial men that the voter lists of Manitoba are incompletely prepared the stand of Mr. Borden and his followers supplies the proof, that they were properly prepared, which could be the objection to having them revised by the county judges? That the authors of the lists through their Parliamentary allies protest against revision is the result of all sorts of reasons, but the reason of the best of all reasons why revision should be insisted on is, in order to voice their protest Mr. Borden reversed the party's policy of all generation; discontents with his own express declaration of twelve years ago, and the time has come when he would be right in his own主张. This time at least for that gentleman is prepared to go to the Roblin Government to kill qualified Manitobans in Manitoba, and therefore have imperative the necessity of protecting the franchise of that Province from the hands of the county judges.

THE RIGHT PLACE, BUT THE WRONG PEOPLE.

The New Democratic party, on the arrival of the first of the Deakins-Bridgefield lists, are removing to British Columbia. According to the New the land bought by the colony faces on the Columbia river over the entire distance of 1,000 miles, and a valley walled in by impenetrable mountains. Here they intend to pursue their pastoral calling with as little communication with the outside world as possible. The location seems to be about as good as can be found, and the colony is actually safeguarding them from foreign intrusion and vice versa.

The regrettable feature of the business is that those who go to

EDMONTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

About 2,500 Pupils Are Being Trained in The Seven City Schools Under an Excellent Staff of Teachers and a School Board of The Most Progressive Type —Edmonton Attracts the Finest Class of Teachers by Excellence of System.
—Curriculum Based on Song and Broad Principles.

Alberta has, among many other advantages, an exceptionally good system of education. Throughout the whole of the province, from the education, Rep. Dr. Rutherford, down to the most heloted teacher or teacher, the system of education is a lively interest, a sense of progress and national ambition. As is to be expected, Edmonton quite well deserved its reputation in this regard.

It is not surprising that the schools of Edmonton are a boast to the citizens of the capital, and an object of enviable comment to the people of the surrounding provinces. Practically all the conditions that go to make up the ideal school system are to be found in Edmonton. The school buildings—large, modern, well-equipped and well ventilated—would be a credit to any city in Canada. The pupils are of undoubted intelligence, while the staff of teachers is a credit to one that is year by year increasing.

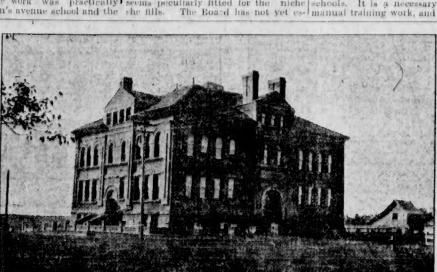

THE QUEEN'S AVE. PUBLIC SCHOOL

ing brought to a high degree of excellence. Let a teacher, anywhere within ten of Edmonton's vigilante and capable superintendents, make application to him for a capable and cultured teacher; and for so long she may be found on the staff of the school system. Such splendid cooperation with the school board of Edmonton. A superintendant and his wife, and the complete the professional staff of Edmonton's public schools.

All the principals of most city schools are men, the teaching profession has become so largely composed of women that the school uses the feminine in generalizing about teachers. Rep. Dr. Eaton did so in his annual address. A couple of weeks ago, when he said that in the working out of the West's future, the most important factor was the school teacher. "She will occupy," he said, "the centre of the stage." The school teacher, because of this he urged that every effort should be made to secure only the best for our children. He stated an excellent principle—one that has been actively at work here, during the past five years.

Attracted by the general good report of the school system here, British representatives visited each of the schools, and saw an exact system in actual operation, coming away very deeply impressed and more than satisfied with the future. In the first place, there are now about 2,500 pupils enrolled, and the school system is in a position of young folk that would be difficult to find the world over. There is no question about the quality of them, unless in some of the newer arrivals, who have not yet been made to feel at home. The bright, young youngsters, the offspring of vigorous young parents who have had the opportunity to live in the West. And they make splendid material for citizenship.

Education Statistics. Five years ago there were 377 pupils enrolled in the public schools of Edmonton. In 1907, there were 2,292, and this year we are more than twice as many. A few years ago, at least 100,000 students were enrolled. The number in five years has nearly quadrupled, and while today the average public school in the West is not even a public school, five years ago the work was practically done in Queen's avenue school and the

TO FORM LEAGUE.

Arrangements are being completed for the preliminary steps in the formation of a Central Alberta Baseball League or as it may possibly be called the Alberta League. The league will be a purely amateur organization and will possibly be composed of the Edmonton, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Medicine Hat, Acheson and Vegreville. The promoter of this league is "Deacon" White, manager of the Medicine Hat baseball team. He has called a meeting of delegates from the above named clubs for Monday evening at the Lethbridge Hotel.

On Monday, the Lethbridge club team will play with the Lethbridge team here at 6:30 p.m. and the formation of the league will be in favor of such an organization. If the delegates are in favor of such a league, the formation of officers will probably be preceded by a meeting of the delegates to draw up a schedule of games. One or three games a week will be played and as the season progresses the entire game may be played with the players losing very much time from the field. The games will be played through last August, July and August. The first games will be appointed and the average of the players during the season will be kept.

The formation of such a league will be held at the Lethbridge Hotel and if the organization of the Twilight League goes through as planned the league games in Edmonton will doubtless be well patronized.

CALLIES WIN GAME.

The local Scots that form the Canadian Association Football team were again defeated last evening in a league match with the Lethbridge team. The team is a score of 5-0 on the Exhibition Grounds. The game was rather one-sided. The Callies played rather well and played rather good ball. The backs are strong, sure kickers and with the aid of the halves, who bothered the Callies, the Callies were rather good. They kept the ball well up to their line. All Saints have some good players in their line but they lack combination and weight.

One feature of the game from the spectators' point of view was the brilliant uniforms worn by both teams. All Saints wore a blue and white striped shirt and blue and white striped pants. The Callies for the first time in their new uniforms of prussian and yellow jerseys. The colors of the Callies are yellow and blue. The colors of Lord Roseberry, president of the Scottish Association, are blue and white. The Callies rather better at a distance than up close.

Quite a number of the supporters of both teams were present to witness last night's game. The movement would do well however to have the game more promptly. Last night's match was rather poor. The Callies scored two goals in the first half and three in the last half.
